Symposium 2026: From Ambition to Action

After record-breaking attendance at the 50th edition in 2025, and amid unprecedented international momentum behind clean, reliable, 24/7 nuclear energy, this year's World Nuclear Symposium marks another decisive milestone for the global nuclear sector.

The question is no longer whether the world needs more nuclear, but how quickly we can scale and deliver. Symposium 2026 brings together the senior leaders and decision-makers driving the largest-ever expansion of nuclear energy worldwide.

After consecutive years of 20%-plus growth, and with 1,300 delegates expected in 2026, Symposium's audience is more diverse and influential than ever, drawing leaders from energy, finance, technology, media, and government. Reflecting the critical importance of capital markets and institutional engagement, our dedicated Finance Summit returns for 2026, offering an essential platform for high-level financial dialogue.

Hosted at the Hilton London Metropole - a dynamic, central London venue – the Symposium offers a world-class setting for partnership-building, deal-making and strategic engagement.

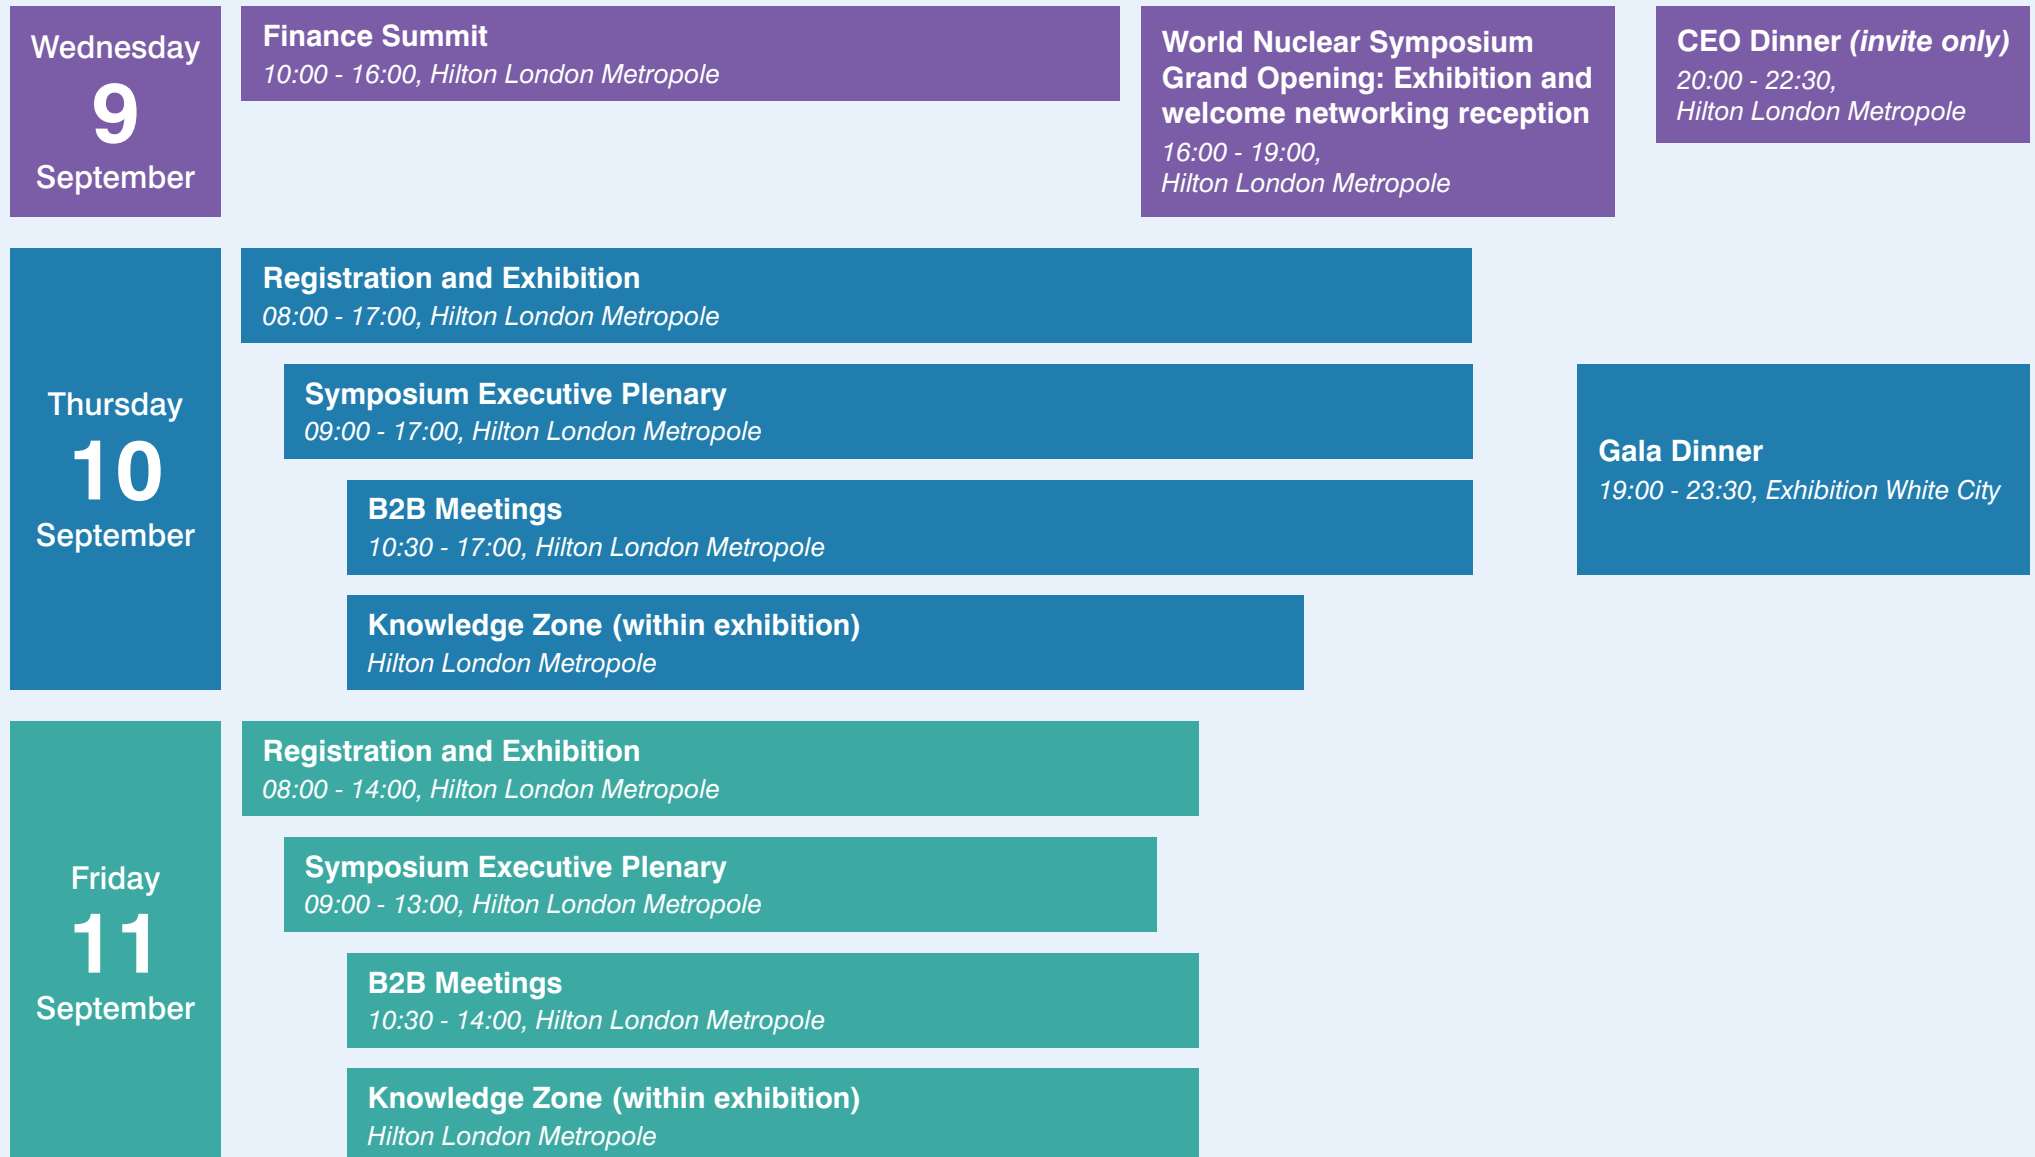

Symposium 2026 is the must-attend global nuclear event of the year and the ideal platform to:

- Showcase your organisation's innovations and capabilities
- Announce major developments or partnerships
- Engage directly with the industry's most senior decision-makers
- Position your brand at the heart of nuclear's global scale-up

Explore our expanded sponsorship opportunities to find the format that best aligns with your visibility, partnership, and strategic objectives.
